DB SCHENKER part load

Schenker Deutschland AG

Status: April 2022

Terms of use DB SCHENKERpart load

DB SCHENKERpart load refers to a product of Schenker Deutschland AG in the area of part loads/LTL transports. The Terms and Conditions of Quotation for Land Transport, the ADSp (German Freight Forwarders' Standard Conditions) and, insofar as these do not apply to logistics services, the latest version of the Logistics GTC (Logistik-AGB) shall apply. Furthermore, the following terms of use apply, which still take precedence over the ADSp and Logistics GTC.

1. General scope of services/scope of application

- Geographical scope (Germany)
- For national transports
- Consignments greater than 2,500 kg gross weight or 2.5 ldm or 12.5 cbm and smaller than 19,400 kg gross weight or 11 ldm or 55 cbm as well as goods not conforming to DB SCHENKERsystem (packages over 3m in length and over 30kg). The maximum length of a package must not exceed 6 m and the maximum width and height must not exceed 2.40 m.
- Door-to-door service (from loaded sender to free arrival recipient)
- Providing the transport service partly using the international DB Schenker network
- The DB Schenker Scheduler can be used as an indication of the transit time of the consignments (<http://www.dbschenker.com/de/scheduling>).
- One-man crew for a truck is standard
- Standard vehicle type: Euro trailer with tarpaulin (13.6m)
- Maximum capacity of the vehicle: 33 pallets (L x W x H 120x80x240cm basic dimensions) and 24 t
- Stand time of up to 30 minutes is included in the scope of services; above this, stand fees of € 50 per started hour will be charged.
- At least one tension belt per booked loading metre
- Loading and unloading take place from the rear via a ramp
- Deviations from the general scope of services must be requested
- Country-specific requirements and regulations regarding vehicles and personnel are observed and complied with.
- Unless expressly agreed otherwise, the transshipment or additional loading of consignments is generally possible.
- The calculation of the standard transit time (from Monday to Friday) communicated at the time of booking begins with the date and time of loading.
- Schenker Deutschland AG reserves the right to release itself from the obligation to provide additional services mentioned in point 2 if no sufficient capacities are available. In such a case, the customer will be informed immediately and the price for the additional service will not be charged. Amounts already paid will be refunded immediately. In this case, the customer is entitled to withdraw from the entire transport order. No further consequential claims shall arise from the discontinuation of the obligation to provide additional services. The liability of Schenker Deutschland AG for intent or gross negligence remains unaffected.

- Insofar as agreed transit times cannot be complied with, this shall not give rise to any consequential claims on the part of the customer. Schenker Deutschland AG will inform the customer of this without delay. The liability of Schenker Deutschland AG for intent or gross negligence remains unaffected.

2. Additional services offered in connection with the product by individual arrangement

The product combination matrix attached as Annex 2 shows which combinations of products with additional services can be booked.
