2. There are two ways of determining the weight of a consignment:
 - a. on the basis of the actual weight of a consignment,
 - b. on the basis of the so-called calculation based weight.
3. To determine a price for the weight of a consignment a higher parameter, real weight or calculation based weight, is taken.

Calculation based weight is determined on the basis of:

 - volume (calculation based weight = volume of a consignment [m³] x applicable conversion factor),
 - load meters (calculation based weight = number of load meters (ldm) x applicable conversion factor).

The number of load meters (ldm) is calculated according to the formula:
ldm = LxW/2.4 (the product of length and width, divided by 2.4),
L - length of longest side of packaging, expressed in meters and rounded up to 0,1 m,
W - length of shorter side of packaging, expressed in meters and rounded up to the closest multiple number of 0.2 m,
2.4 = width of the open load-carrying body, taken as 2.4 m. wide.

In the case of a few packages composing one consignment which can be arranged near each other, the widths are totalled, and next rounded according to the principles as above. Idm index is used for consignments which are more than 1.5 m high or for such on which (no matter how high they are) other consignments cannot be placed.

- For shipments containing long packages of type 1 or long packages of type 2, a fee shall be charged according to the Table of Services and Additional Charges in International Road Freight,
- For DB SCHENKER*system* and DB SCHENKER*system premium* consignments not suitable for mechanical handling, whose weight calculable exceeds 150 kg, a fee shall be charged according to the Table of Services and Additional Charges in International Road Freight.

 - b. for consignments DB SCHENKER*full load* the waiting time may not exceed 1 hour.

The waiting time is calculated from the agreed moment of providing a truck for disposal of a consignor/consignee until the end of the loading/unloading process, and in the case of customs clearance until a truck is released after the finished customs clearance procedure. In case the said waiting time is exceeded, the fees as in the Table of Additional Fees for International Land Services published on www.dbschenker.pl shall apply.
